

Nifty REITs & InvITs:

Tracking of publicly listed and traded REITs & InvITs

February 2024

Introduction

India's economic growth relies heavily on its robust infrastructure and thriving real estate sector. As per a joint report by Knight Frank and National Real Estate Development Council (NAREDCO), India's real estate sector contributes to 7.3% of GDP (as of 2022) and is expected to expand to $5.8 trillion by 2047, contributing 15.5% to the GDP whereas, the studies by the Reserve Bank of India and the National Institute of Public Finance and Policy estimate that for every rupee spent on infrastructure, there is a 2.5 to 3.5 rupee gain in GDP. Acknowledging their significance, the Indian government in the 2023 budget session took a momentous step by increasing capital expenditure on infrastructure by 33%, amounting to Rs. 10 trillion. (Source: Press Information Bureau, Government of India, Ministry of Finance)

This significant boost in investment, combined with the emergence of innovative investment avenues like Real Estate Investment Trusts (REITs) and Infrastructure Investment Trusts (InvITs), holds the potential to reshape the trajectory of India's real estate and infrastructure sectors. The development of robust infrastructure, including roads, bridges, airports, and public transportation systems, plays a pivotal role in attracting potential homebuyers, businesses, and investors. Furthermore, the real estate sector acts as a catalyst for economic expansion, generating employment opportunities and driving overall growth. However, the expansion of these sectors demands significant long-term capital, exceeding the availability of public funds.

To bridge the financing gap and fuel growth, Real Estate Investment Trusts (REITs) and Infrastructure Investment Trusts (InvITs) have emerged as crucial investment vehicles in India. REITs are investment trusts that own income-generating real estate assets such as commercial buildings, residential complexes, and shopping centres. InvITs, on the other hand, invest in revenue-generating infrastructure assets, including highways, power transmission lines, and renewable energy projects.

These investment options were introduced in India in 2014 and are regulated by the Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI). Initially the minimum application value for REITs and InvITs was Rs.50000 and Rs.1 Lakh respectively and minimum trading lot was 100 units. However, in 2021, SEBI reduced the minimum application value to range of Rs. 10,000-15,000 and minimum trading lot to one unit, making them more accessible to a wider range of investors.

There are four publicly listed and traded REITs and three publicly listed and traded InvITs on the National Stock Exchange (NSE), as of December 31, 2023. During April-December 2023, the total funds mobilised by REITs and InvITs (including funds raised through public issue, private placement, preferential issue, institutional placement, rights issue) is around Rs. 23000 Cr. (Source: SEBI).

REITs and InvITs demonstrate unique characteristics that set them apart as investment options:

Diversification:

REITs and InvITs provide investors with a diversified portfolio of real estate or infrastructure assets, reducing risk compared to investing in individual properties or projects.

Stable Income:

Both REITs and InvITs are mandated to distribute a minimum of 90% of their taxable income to investors as dividends every quarter. This translates to regular cash flow investors can rely on, particularly beneficial for individuals seeking retirement income or consistent returns.

Liquidity:

Being listed on stock exchanges, REITs and InvITs offer liquidity, allowing investors to buy or sell units easily. This liquidity contrasts with the relatively illiquid nature of direct real estate or infrastructure investments.

Professional Management:

REITs and InvITs are managed by experienced professionals, bringing expertise in property or infrastructure management. This professional management can enhance the performance and value of the underlying assets.

Tax Efficiency:

Indian REITs and InvITs offer tax benefits to both investors and sponsors. For investors, dividend income is exempt from tax if the REIT/InvIT distributes at least 90% of its taxable income. Additionally, long-term capital gains (held for more than one year) are taxed at a lower rate than short-term capital gains.

Access to Large-Scale Assets:

Investing in REITs and InvITs allows investors to gain exposure to large-scale real estate or infrastructure projects that may be otherwise inaccessible to individual investors.

Potential for Capital Appreciation:

Alongside the income generated through dividends, investors may benefit from the potential appreciation in the value of the underlying assets, leading to capital gains.

Transparency and Regulatory Oversight:

SEBI (Securities and Exchange Board of India) regulates REITs and InvITs, ensuring transparency and adherence to regulatory standards. This oversight contributes to a level of investor protection.

With their unique characteristics, tax benefits, and regulatory framework, REITs and InvITs offer opportunities for investors to participate in the growth of India's real estate and infrastructure landscape.

To provide exposure to such publicly listed REITs and InvITs in a single index, NSE Indices Limited launched Nifty REITs & InvITs index in April 2023.

About Nifty REITs & InvITs

The Exhibit 2 above displays the Compound Annual Growth Rate (CAGR) of the Nifty REITs & InvITs Index based on Price Returns (PR) and Total Returns (TR) for different time periods. TR includes not only the price changes but also takes into account the additional income generated by the REITs and InvITs, such as interest, dividend income, rental income, and return of capital. The excess return in the TR, compared to the PR, is attributed to the distribution requirements imposed on REITs and InvITs by the market regulator SEBI (Securities and Exchange Board of India). SEBI mandates REITs and InvITs to distribute at least 90% of the cash available to unitholders on a quarterly basis, which includes interest income, rental income, and dividends. The PR for the Nifty REITs & InvITs Index has varied across different periods, ranging from -4.15% for the 1-year period to 4.07% for the 3-month period. It shows the performance of the index solely based on price movements. The TR version for the Nifty REITs & InvITs Index which will be always higher than the PR return index, ranges from 0.82% for the 1-year period to 9.40% per annum since inception (for the 4.5 year period starting 01 July, 2019). The TR captures the full performance of the index, including all income generated.
